The City of Alba Iulia

Alba Iulia is one of the most important historical sites of Romania.

The city was an important Dacian political, economic and social centre named Apulum, mentioned by the ancient Greek geographer Ptolemy. After the southern part of Dacia became a province of the Roman Empire, the capital of the Dacia Apulensis district was established here, and the city was known as Apulum. It was one of the largest centres in Roman Dacia and the seat of Legion XIII Gemina.

Alba Iulia became the capital of the Principality of Transylvania in 1541, a status held until 1690. It was during the reign of Prince Gabriel Bethlen that the city reached a peak in its cultural history, with the establishment of an academy. Further important milestones in the city's development include the creation of the Batthyanaeum Library in the 18th century, and the advent of the railway in the 19th century.

In 1918, tens of thousands of Romanians and representatives of the Transylvanian Saxons and other minority groups gathered in Alba Iulia on December 1st, now commemorated as the Union Day in Romania, to hear the proclamation of the unification of Transylvania with the Kingdom of Romania. Ever since, our city has been known as The City of the Unification or The Soul Capital of all Romanians.

Landmarks:

The Roman Catholic Cathedral

Built in the 13th century, the Roman Catholic Cathedral is considered to be an important monument of early Transylvanian medieval architecture. It harmoniously combines Gothic and Roman style elements.

The Reunification Cathedral

The Reunification Cathedral of Alba Iulia was built during 1921-1923 based on a project designed by architect D. G. Ștefănescu in collaboration with the engineer T. Eremia. The establishment is built in the shape of a Greek cross. The Great Romanian monarchs King Ferdinand and Queen Mary were crowned here on 15th October 1922.

The Union Museum

The Union Museum of Alba Iulia is one of the finest in Romania. It was originally built for military purposes, the Babilon Building dating since the half of the 19th century (1851-1853). It has two floors and over 100 rooms, and it exhibits over 130,000 pieces of priceless works included in its patrimony.

The Fortress of Alba Iulia (Alba Carolina Fortress)

The Alba Carolina fortress was built between 1715 and 1738 and it is considered to be the most representative of Vauban type in Europe. The fortress was designed by the Italian architect Giovanni Morando Visconti, who worked under the supervision of General Stefan de Steinville and was later completed under General Weiss. The fortification has seven bastions (Eugene of Savoy, St. Stephen, The Trinity, St. Michael, St. Charles, St. Capistrano and St. Elisabeth) that make it into a 7 star-shape, Vauban-style fortress. The fortress is the most important baroque architectural ensemble in Romania and Europe.

The Route of the Three Fortresses

The Route of the Three Fortresses offers the visitors the chance to travel 2,000 years back in time, walking around the old walls of the three fortifications belonging to three different historical periods, successively built on the same location, each new citadel including the previous one: The Roman Camp (106 AD), The Medieval Citadel (16th -17th c.) and the Alba Carolina Citadel, a Vauban-type fortification (18th c.). The route includes visits to: The Minting Factory Gate, South Gate of the Roman Camp (Castrum), the Military Camp, the Access Tunnel to the Artillery Platform, the Artillery Platform, The Guard Room - The Arms Room, The Bethlen Bastion and the Alba Carolina Citadel.

The tourist potential of the area is mirrored by many other numerous traces of millenary history, art and architecture, and the variety and beauty of nature.

Rector's Address

“1 Decembrie 1918” University of Alba Iulia is a public higher education and research institution, going through a new stage of its existence, a stage marked by the three principles underlying the current mandate of the University's Management: performance, quality and consistency. Being a relatively young University – we celebrated our 30th anniversary in 2021 -, our University is fully aware of its place and role within the higher education system in Romania, and constantly relates to the tradition of the Transylvanian educational system. Each detail of our institutional activity is connected to the importance of our University's existence in the heart of Romania, a privileged locus of the national spirit. The basic mission of the University is precisely that of contributing through specific means of education, research and value creation to preserving and underpinning the national identity, to unity in diversity of the Romanian culture and to its active integration within the European and universal flow of values.

The previous developmental stage of our University has been marked by major strategic projects and significant achievements in the strengthening and advancement of the academic body, by an increase in scientific performances of the teaching and research staff, the development of all the material resources, including living conditions offered to our students. The new stage of maturity aims at intensifying these actions, having as main purpose the increase of every category of performances. It is our endeavor to focus on performances which will secure a higher ranking of our University in the coming years, in the context of a hierarchy based on sound, fair and unitary criteria for all Romanian institutions of higher education. The strategic objectives of the University are therefore oriented in this direction, and aim at increasing the quality of the educational process in accordance with the Romanian Law of Education. Within the European context, our University promotes excellence in scientific research, by developing and strengthening academic relations at national and international level, supporting individual excellence of teaching staff and researchers, increasing the quality of students' life and creating opportunities for personal and professional development in order to help them actively integrate into society, promoting an efficient institutional management, developing and updating material resources, providing and diversifying financial resources.

The academic community of Alba Iulia focuses on students and the quality of their education and professional training. The values that we promote are orientated towards maintaining a harmonious and seminal relationship between the actors of the educational process: equality, diversity, sustainability and social responsibility, openness, transparency and fairness, innovation and professionalism, excellence, respect towards the individual and collective values, responsibility for the human and material patrimony. We enjoy collaboration with institutions from the secondary and higher educational systems from Romania and abroad, viable and proactive partnerships with public and private institutions and the enthusiastic support of local and regional officials, so that we cannot but mobilise and channel all our activities and commitment to the enhancement of our University's performances. In troubled times, marked by a world crisis and instability, we vouch to offer stability and balance, by promoting essential ethical and aesthetic principles, a sense of responsibility towards national identity and its values within the European and global context. We assure all our University's current and prospective students, friends, partners, sponsors or collaborators that they will always find a close-knit academic family in Alba Iulia, in the heart of the Alba Carolina Fortress. In order to understand its essence, you are warmly welcomed here to become the friends with whom we can pledge allegiance to the truth once spoken by Nelson Mandela: “Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world.”

Professor Valer Daniel Breaz, Ph.D.
Rector of “1 Decembrie 1918” University of Alba Iulia

Welcome to “1 Decembrie 1918” University of Alba Iulia

The name of our institution “1 DECEMBRIE 1918” UNIVERSITY OF ALBA IULIA is related to the historical moment (1 December 1918) when the union of the three Romanian provinces was accomplished in Alba Iulia. In 2020, following the institutional assessment carried out by the Executive Bureau of the Romanian Agency for Quality Assurance in Higher Education – ARACIS, “1 Decembrie 1918” University of Alba Iulia was awarded a HIGH CONFIDENCE RATING, the highest qualification for Romanian universities.

The aim of the university is to constantly develop an academic community, able to increase the value of the archaeological, social, economic and cultural heritage of our region, and committed to creating, preserving and disseminating knowledge, enhancing the academic community's excellence, developing students' skills and competences, through promoting a culture of values, morality, inquiry, research, and life-long learning.

Our University is also committed to continuing the process of extending, modernising and adapting its research and education facilities, and to developing a complex – both theoretical and practical – academic training system for all those who are willing to become highly qualified specialists in different fields of activity, adequately prepared for the ever more demanding and challenging national and international labour market. Therefore, we are permanently improving our undergraduate BA and BSc programmes, as well as post-graduate studies (Master and Ph.D. programmes). The academic programmes are completely aligned with the Bologna system.

“1 Decembrie 1918” University of Alba Iulia has collaboration agreements with more than 200 research, educational and cultural institutions from Australia, Balkan Countries, China, Colombia, Kazahstan, Montenegro, Malaysia, Mexico, Russian Federation, Ukraine, Uzbekistan and all the EU countries, etc. Most of the agreements are focused on the exchange of students and staff (teaching staff, researchers and administrative staff), exchange of publications, journals and teaching materials, co-organisation of conferences and other academic events, and participation in research and educational projects.

Faculty of History, Letters and Educational Sciences

The Faculty of History, Letters and Educational Sciences brings together the undergraduate academic programmes in Humanities of our University. The Faculty of History, Letters and Educational Sciences consists of three large departments: the Department of History, Archaeology and Museology, Department of Philology and the Department of Teacher Education.

The Faculty of History, Letters and Educational Sciences boasts leading edge facilities for a top-quality educational process: libraries (University Library, Batthyaneum Library, Library of the National Union Museum, National Archives – Alba County), access to databases (e.g. ProQuest, JSTOR, Emerald, Science Direct, Thompson ISI Web of Knowledge, etc.), state-of-the-art laboratories and classrooms, archaeological and restoration sites.

The Faculty has also established partnerships with national and international institutions of higher education. As a result, our students can take part in study and work placement mobility with partner universities in France, Italy, Greece, Germany, Poland, Austria, Spain, Hungary, China, Slovakia, the Czech Republic, Macedonia, Bulgaria, Denmark, Finland, the Netherlands, Norway, Lithuania, Portugal, Turkey, Malta, etc.

International Relations

LIVE THE ERASMUS+ EXPERIENCE

Study at IAB in Alba Iulia, Romania

The Centre for International Relations is the pacesetter for the internationalisation strategy of “1 Decembrie 1918” University of Alba Iulia, developed in cooperation with and endorsed by the university management for the current mandate (2020-2024). The main tenets of this strategy are construed along the following lines: extending the international dimension of research activities, and teaching/learning processes, raising intercultural and plurilingual awareness, and active involvement in social and corporate governance.

We actively foster the mobility of teachers and students and we continuously extend our cooperation with institutions worldwide, either through bilateral agreements or collaborating in different types of networks (European University Association, Association of Carpathian Regional Universities, Consortium in Humanities, European Network for Intercultural Education Activities, Black Sea University Network, UNIRO – University Network of International Relations Offices, etc.).

“1 Decembrie 1918” University of Alba Iulia has currently concluded over 220 Erasmus+ agreements with higher education institutions for student and staff mobility, as well as more than 50 Erasmus+ agreements with various institutions for student placement. We have approximately 190 outgoing students and 120 incoming students within the Erasmus+ mobility Programme. Our university is implementing the International Credit Mobility within the Erasmus+ Programme with Partner Countries with whom besides mobility programmes we are developing collaborative educational and research activities, such as: co-organising thematic conferences (GeoCAD, ICTAMI, BENA, Exploratory Workshop on Internationalisation of Higher Education, etc.), co-publishing periodical volumes of conference proceedings and peer-reviewed academic journals. We have already established successful joint PhD programmes, and a double degree programme for masters in Business Administration with Hradec Kralove University in the Czech Republic, and we are looking into new vistas offered by ERA+.

For international students, our university provides an academic year programme in Romanian as a Foreign Language (Preparatory Year).

Romanian Language Preparatory Year

Aims and scope

The one-year, full-time academic programme in Romanian as a Foreign Language is addressed to foreign citizens who wish to gain entry onto a Romanian degree programme (at bachelor, master, Ph.D. level), as well as post-graduate and advanced training programmes in various fields. The programme also meets the needs of expatriates who work in Romania and who want to acquire a formal language certification.

The course aims at developing international students' skills in reading, writing, listening and speaking in Romanian for academic purposes. By the end of the course, students will have reached level B2 of the Common European Framework.

Besides the 22 contact hours per week, the programme also includes extracurricular activities to ensure that international students understand Romanian academic life and culture. Various social events, excursions, outings and documentary visits to other cities and tourist attractions are organised regularly to ensure social, linguistic and cultural integration.

| Courses | No. of hours/ week | Academic credits 30 ECTS/semester |
